JAMES C. BOOTH,
United States Mint at Philadelphia, Pa.

9/27-86

Hon. D. M. Fox
Superintendent,

Sir,

Since the Silver Bars, shipped by Zimmermann & Forshay on the 24. Sept. to this Mint, are reported by the Assayer, Mr. J. R. Eckfeldt, to be brittle, and to contain objectionable foreign matter, I respectfully recommend that they be not received by us.

very respectfully
J. C. Booth
M. & R.

RG104 E-1 Box 141 Jul-Sep 1886

the United States at Philadelphia,

ASSAY DEPARTMENT,

Sept 27th, 1886.

To M & R. –

Silver bars N. York

10638 { 182
39 { 183

are somewhat brittle, and as they show the presence of foreign matter (in solution) I think it best not to receive them without melting & toughening.

Jacob B. Eckfeldt
Assayer

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 141

[Letter One:]

James C. Booth
United States Mint at Philadelphia, Pa.

September 27, 1886

Hon. D.M. Fox
Superintendent,

Sir,

Since the Silver Bars, shipped by Zimmermann & Forshay on the 24 Sept. to this Mint, are reported by the Assayer, Mr. J.R. Eckfeldt, to be brittle, and to contain objectionable foreign matter, I respectfully recommend that they be not received by us.

Very respectfully,
Jas. C. Booth
M & R

[Letter Two:]

Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,
Assay Department,
September 27, 1886

To M & R

Silver bars	N. York
10638	(182)
39	(183)

are somewhat brittle, and as they show the presence of foreign matter (in solution) I think it best not to receive them without melting & toughening.

Jacob B. Eckfeldt
Assayer